The Pulp Mills Are Coming

Mouth of Stikine to be the site for a 50-ton-a-day plant Two deposits made to secure timber.

In a statement for the Dispatch, W. G. Weigle, Forest Supervisor of the Tongass National Forest Reserve, said that pulp mills are coming to Southeastern Alaska. Already two concerns have made their $2,500.00 deposit to secure the necessary timber.

I. N. Lightner, representing a Spokane Syndicate, will operate a pulp mill with a capacity of fifty tons a day at the mouth of the Stikine river.

S. B. Stockley, of San Francisco, will open a million dollar plant with a fifty ton a day capacity at Thorne Bay, and another application for Wrangell Narrows is in the hands of the forestry agent.

After a trip to the Stikine Sunday, Charles Roos reports that the ice is rapidly breaking up.

Fish Trap Legislation Is Killed

On Thursday, April 24th, the Anti-Fish-Trap Bill, probably the most talked of bill introduced in the first legislature, certainly so as concerning Southeastern Alaska, was killed dead by a four to three vote in the Senate Chamber when it came up for final consideration. Senators Sutherland, Tanner and Roden voting for and Bruener, Tripp, Millard and Freeding against its passage.

The fish-trap has been a target for petitions and other missiles for several years and legislation for its abolishment was one of the main planks in the platforms of all the parties in the late campaign including that on which all of members of the present solons, who turned it down, were elected to office.

Owing to a ruling of the president of the Senate on a point of order, it would have been impossible for the Senate to take any action on Svindeth's House bill which contained the same subject-matter as the Senate Anti-Trap measure.

Solon Introduces Resolution to Abrogate Treaties

George E. Chamberlain, United States Senator from Oregon, on April 21st, introduced into Congress a joint resolution to abrogate the Hay-Pauncefote and Clayton-Bulwer treaties with Great Britain. This startling move on the part of Senator Chamberlain is the result of the British objection to the proposed Panama Canal tolls and considering its effect on rates across continent and the power to make rates, the disposal of the resolution will be a paramount subject in the minds of Pacific Coast shippers as well as the diplomats and officials.

"It is high time," said Senator Chamberlain, "for an illuminating discussion of this whole question. The pro-British side has been too long before the people unchallenged. If Anglomaniacs in this country are to continually plead the cause of Great Britain as against the American side of the question, I believe it is time that they should be given something to think and talk about. At the same time I am pretty certain the American people also will have something to think and talk about."

Home For Aged

The ultimate disposition of the deserted barracks at Sitka and the question of caring for the aged pioneers and prospectors was combined the past week by the consent of the Secretaries of the Interior and Navy to the use of the barracks as a home for the aged. The Territorial Legislature immediately created a commission for the supervision of the home and the Governor was made head of the commission.

Howdy Pap

Howdy Pap! is the countersign since Saturday, when Wrangell Lodge No. 866, L. O. O. M. was organized. Forty-three applicants were recorded last week and fifty are expected before the next meeting.

The officers elected Saturday are—Past Dictator, Wm. Lucas; Dictator, J. C. Ensley; Vice-Dictator, C. C. Brown; Prelate, C. Prescott; Sjt-at-Arms, Wm. Berger; Guards, E. J. LaBounty and C. P. Cole; Secretary, F. S. Johnston; Trustees, Sol LaBounty, E. Carlstrom and H. J. Phillips.

Should Have Floating Dock For Burnside

The following meritorious receipt or prescription for the Alaska Army Cable's weakness occurred to a local writer since the latest break in the gossamer gossip conveyor. "In order to have the Burnside available for frequent repairs to the Alaska Cable, a nice clean floating drydock should be provided for her to protect her from the salt chuck and slander. With two businesslike jugs to tow the dock around, she should be ready for duty most of the time. If the writer was a Mor-Rockefeller he would present the Burnside with a cosy docket of the floating type. And if he was a Walt Mason he would make this prose sound like poetry. However,"

Margaret Brent.

The first woman to claim the right to vote in a legislative body in America was Margaret Brent. In 1647, in Maryland. She was a relative of Cecil Calvert, Lord Baltimore, and the representative of Leonard Calvert, the governor, who told her to "take all and pay all." She claimed the right and was granted the right of acting as the lord proprietor's attorney.

Every Dawg Has His Day

Indications are Atlin has had hers.

Egged on by the hot air admissions of Atlin footers and the reports of government officials that the route from Atlin to Silver Creek was a primrose path (said officials investigating from the parlors of a hotel) we have seen the musher hustled past our door and the natural gateway to the new Cassiar diggings. But now is the reaction. On the Seattle this morning was a sack of mail for Telegraph Creek that could not be taken in over the said boulevard. Get me Stephen? The innocent sack of mail couldn't be taken in from Atlin. Now suppos'n it had been a case of bacon?

Moral—Wrangell never has been obliged to misrepresent herself. The natural route to the Cassiar is via Wrangell and the Stikine and will remain so long after the "dog days."

Nothing BEAVER BOARD to the wall or ceiling of a room, getting and without fuss or confusion.

Admiral Samson Brings Inspectors

"What makes a banknote so attractive?"
"Its figure, probably."—Judge.

The man who argues is a nutt, And he will surely rue it.

—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CRAIG SPECIALS

The ladies of Craig gave a dance Saturday evening in the store building. Music for the dance was furnished by an orchestra and everyone had a fine time.

The Curacao called in Saturday evening and stayed until Sunday morning when she started for Big Harbor to load ore. She ran ashore south of the island and several unsuccessful attempts have been made to pull her off.

Miss Rurt, who has been visiting at the Webster home, will leave for Seattle shortly as will Miss Baldwin, who has been visiting at the McMillen home.

Andrew Gunderson, Ray Linton and John Semple will leave for Seattle soon to bring up a gasboat.

The herring and halibut boats have both stopped running in here.

Andy Miller leaves on the first boat for Hazelton, B. C. to look after his mining interests.

Ironing Tablecloths.

The effect of a lovely linen tablecloth is often spoiled by the network of creases caused by folding it. In the future when ironing the cloth fold it once through the middle, roll and tie with a piece of tape. In this manner there will be but the one crease and the tablecloth will lie flat and smooth upon the table.—Indianapolis Star.

To Illustrate.

Example as well as precept was furnished to the youthful autograph fiend who wrote to one of the world's richest men, asking for an "autograph sentiment" and inclosing a two cent stamp for his reply. Over his opulence's signature came the prompt response—on a postcard:
"A penny saved is a penny earned."
—Lippincott's.

Strange Mistake.

Old Mrs. Jones entered the drawing room unexpectedly and spoiled a very pretty tableau.

"I was just whispering a secret in Cousin Jennie's ear," explained Charlie. "I'm sorry," said the old lady gravely, "that your eyesight has become so bad that you mistake Jennie's mouth for her ear."—London Tit-Bits.

Napoleon's Tomb.

The windows in the chapel of the Invalides in Paris, where the great Napoleon lies buried, are of a singularly translucent amber glass. When the sun shines full upon them the rays are transmuted into gold, and they fall like a ladder of light upon the bronze sarcophagus of the conqueror until he seems glorified from the skies.

Pepper.

Black and white pepper are from the same round seed of a tropical plant. The white is ground after the black outer skin has been removed. That is the only difference. The white is considered less irritating to the stomach. It is also preferred for dishes consisting of cream and milk, such as oyster stews, creamed potatoes and the like.

Mortality in War.

War, called by the great Erasmus "the malady of princes," has had so many victims we will never be able to reckon them up. However, it is computed that up to the middle of the nineteenth century no fewer than 6,800,000,000 men perished on the field of battle. In all probability the estimate is under rather than over the mark.

The Purse.

The invention of the purse was doubtless contemporaneous with that of money. The purse is mentioned in Old Testament history as a part of a traveler's outfit. When the disciples, spoken of in the gospels, were sent forth to preach they were commanded to take neither gold nor silver nor brass in their purses.

All precious stones, according to a gem expert, are the better for frequent sun baths.

The Sentinel acknowledges a mistake in the last issue regarding the production of the burlesque, "Deestrick Skule," which is by the Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society and not the Sunday School. Dogs That Resemble Bears.
It has already been noted by scientists that certain mountain dogs have shapes and assume attributes resembling those of a bear. Among these dogs the sheep dog of the Pyrenees bears a closer resemblance to the bear than most others. Although he is seldom over twenty inches high, his bones are very massive and his muscles exceptionally developed. His fur is thick, consisting of long, fine, silky hair, either black, dun colored or gray. His head is large and the nose tapering, the eyes small, but sharp and lustrous and his ears always "attentive." The toes and the base of the feet are elongated and flat. The tail is very short or even entirely missing, and by his manner of climbing the abrupt mountain slopes he may easily be mistaken for a young bear.

A Thackeray Dedication.
A doctor who achieved literary immortality by his refusal of a fee was John Elliotson, who attended Thackeray during a serious illness in 1848. To him in return Thackeray dedicated "Pendennis."

"Thirteen months ago," he wrote, "when it seemed likely that this story had come to a close, a kind friend brought you to my bedside, whence, in all probability, I never should have risen but for your constant watchfulness and skill. I like to recall your great goodness and kindness (as well as many acts of others, showing quite a surprising friendship and sympathy) at that time, when kindness and friendship were most needed and welcome. And as you would take no other fee but thanks let me record them here on behalf of me and mine."

Divorce in Norway.

It is easier to obtain a divorce in Norway than in any other European country. If a married couple want part Norwegian law grants a divorce without inquiring into the reason, but as security that the step has been well thought over it provides that a year of separation must intervene between the application and the actual granting of the divorce. The husband and wife have first to apply to a magistrate. He sends them to the conciliation board, and if this body cannot reconcile them they are granted a separation order. At the end of a year the ministry of justice is compelled to make the divorce final if asked to do so by either party. The whole proceedings are very cheap, the cost ranging from about $1.25 to $25.—London Standard.

A Mere Trifle Anyhow.

An eminent German scientist who recently visited this country with a number of his colleagues was dining at an American house and telling how much he had enjoyed various phases of his visit.

"How did you like our railroad trains?" his host asked him.
"Ach, they are wonderful," the German gentleman replied, "so swift, so safe—cheerfully—and such luxury in all the furnishings and appointments. All is excellent except one thing—our wives do not like the upper berths."—Harper's Weekly.

De Quincey and the Census.

De Quincey once had to fill up a census paper, and the set questions puzzled him greatly. He finally managed to characterize his occupation as "writer to the magazines," but when it came to the occupations of his three daughters his troubles began again. At last he put a ring around their names and wrote, "They are like lilies of the field—they toil not, neither do they spin."

Happy Days.

However varied the courses of our life, whatsoever the phase of pleasure and ambition through which it has swept along, still, when in memory we would revive the times that were comparatively the happiest, these times will be found to have been the calmest.—Bulwer Lytton.

Sizing a Threaded Hole.

It sometimes becomes necessary to transfer the size of a threaded hole from some out of the way place to the shop in order to make a piece to fit it. With proper tools this is easy: without them it might be difficult. One thing is always at hand, and that is wood. Whittle a stick tapering until it starts in the hole. Then turn it into the hole and a fair thread will be made on the wood. The stick can be carried in the pocket without risk of changing the size, as would be the case with ordinary callipers.

Cheerful.

Landlady (showing room): And such a cheerful view, sir. Gentleman (looking out): Why, it's a cemetery! Landlady: Yes, sir. How cheerful and comfortable it will be when you gaze out to think that you're not there.—London Punch.

Bishop of Alaska Visits Wrangell

Rt. Rev. P. T. Rowe, Episcopal Bishop of Alaska, came north from Ketchikan on the Al-Ki last week stopping in Wrangell over Sunday and going on to Juneau on the Jefferson Sunday evening. While in town, the Bishop conducted services and a class of seven took the opportunity of his visit to be confirmed. Rev. H. B. Corser accompanied the Bishop north for a vacation trip and will be away several Sundays.

Ice Cream Parlor

Another mystery unwinds, Mrs T. J. Case has opened an ice cream parlor in the refinished store building across from the Rink. For several weeks, Mr. Case has been working on the building remodeling the interior and front and to inquiries would give evasive answers. To the barbers he hinted that it would be a modern tonsorial parlor and that two lady barbers were to be imported. To the grocers he told of visions of a great and far-reaching trade in fancy and staple groceries. The printer was told that there was plenty of room in Wrangell for a printshop besides the establishment in which he was spending his time (the Ed had two buyers here in less than a week) and that another outfit would be installed. However, it will be a place for dispensing ice cream and kindred dainties.
